Strengthening Oral Skills. The Department of French and Italian offers the following resources to strengthen oral language skills: conversation courses (Fren 211R, 311R, 411R), the Foreign Language Student Residence, Study Abroad and internships in French-speaking countries. Please refer to the specific program or course description for detailed information about these resources.

Language Credit by Examination. A student enrolled full-time at BYU whose native language is not French may receive credit by special examination for French for which he or she has acquired the equivalent skill or knowledge. However, this is possible only if no university credit has been given through AP, CLEP, or transfer of equivalent credit from another university or other institutions.

The French Language for Credit Examination is administered by the French and Italian Department twice a year: in November during fall semester and in March during winter semester. Based on enrollment, the credit examination may be administered during spring and/or summer terms. Details about this examination will be provided by the student's Fren 201, 202, or 321, or 322 teacher. Students can test out of classes as follows, depending on a student's status:

Students who start with Fren 201 can test out of:
Fren 101 and 102 (8 hours).

Returned missionaries from Quebec or Creole-speaking missions, etc., who start with Fren 201 can test out of:
Fren 101, 102, and 211R (10 hours).

Returned missionaries from France, Belgium, Switzerland, etc., can test out of:
Fren 101, 102, 201, 211R, and 311R (16 hours).

For returned missionaries to be eligible to take the exam, they need to be enrolled in Fren 201, 321, or 322.

Note 1: The above five classes are not part of a French major or minor. The first French minor class requirement is Fren 321.

Note 2: Fren 340 fulfills the GE Foreign Language option for returned missionaries from France, Belgium, Switzerland and other French-speaking countries. Fren 321 does not.

Accelerated Program.

The department offers an accelerated course in beginning French (101 and 102) every fall and winter semester. These courses are offered on the block.

Foreign Language Student Residence. An excellent alternative to or preparation for foreign residency is offered through the Foreign Language Housing, where participants speak, eat, and live with a French only rule. This program, with numerous cultural opportunities, is available each semester to women and men who have completed at least one year of college French.

Study Abroad and Internship Programs. All students of French are encouraged to participate in a Study Abroad program. Study Abroad typically offers during Spring term a language and civilization program in Paris, France. It provides an excellent opportunity for developing language proficiency and better understanding of the history and culture of France. Study Abroad also offers a semester-long program in Paris with an emphasis on general education courses. Internships in French speaking countries are also available.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of French and Italian strongly recommends that StDev 317, a 1-credit-hour course, be taken at the end of the sophomore year or the beginning of the junior year. Because liberal arts degrees provide preparation in a variety of useful fields rather than a single career track, this course is recommended to help liberal arts students focus on specific educational and occupational goals and to identify the career options or educational opportunities available to them. The course will introduce them to the resources needed for accessing information about graduate schools, internships, careers, and career development. Students will learn basic employment strategies, including the steps necessary for obtaining employment related to their own specialty.

THE DISCIPLINE:

The study of French language and literature sharpens analytical and communicative skills. Students develop proficiency in listening, reading, writing, and speaking, and they learn to use literature as a means to discover and broaden their understanding of culturally specific as well as universal issues and values.

CAREERS:

Students who complete a BA in French Teaching are licensed to teach French at the secondary level in Utah. Many other states recognize the Utah teaching license and many students have received positions throughout the United States.

Note: Students are encouraged to complete an average of 15 credit hours each semester or 30 credit hours each year, which could include spring and/or summer terms. Taking fewer credits substantially increases the cost and the number of semesters to graduate.
