				Oral Proficiency Interview. All majors are required to enroll in Ital 491 and have an oral proficiency interview (OPI) during the senior year. The results of the OPI are recorded on the student's transcript. (An interview is optional for departmental minors.) The desired minimum rating is in the Intermediate High range. Appointments for the interviews are made through the Center for Language Studies. When it is necessary to strengthen oral proficiency, students are offered various opportunities: conversation courses, the Foreign Language Student Residence, Study Abroad programs, internships abroad, and support material in the Humanities Learning Resource Center, such as tapes, videos, and satellite broadcasts.
				Language Credit by Examination. A student enrolled full-time at BYU whose native language is not Italian may receive credit by special examination for Italian for which he or she has acquired the equivalent skill or knowledge. However, this is possible only if no university credit has been given through AP, CLEP, or transfer of equivalent credit from another university or other institutions. The Italian Language for Credit Examination is administered by the French and Italian Department twice a year: during fall semester and during winter semester. Based on enrollment, the credit examination may be administered during spring and/or summer terms. Details about this examination will be given by the student's Italian 321 teacher.
				Students can test out of: Ital 101, 102, 201, 211R, and 311R (16 hours)
				For students to be eligible to take the exam and receive credit for all classes, they need to complete in Ital 321.
				Note 1: The above five classes are not part of an Italian minor. The first Italian minor class requirement is Ital 321.
				Note 2: Ital 340 fills the GE Languages of Learning option. Ital 321 does not.
				Foreign Language Student Residence. In addition to BYU's Study Abroad or internship programs in Italy, intensive "live-in" experience is available in the Foreign Language Student Residence. Besides taking regular courses in the department, students participate in lectures, discussions, films, and related extracurricular activities under the supervision of native Italian head residents. Vital to the success of the program is the 24 hour Italian only rule whereby students use Italian language as their means of communication when they are at home.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of French and Italian strongly recommends that StDev 317, a 1-credit-hour course, be taken at the end of the sophomore year or the beginning of the junior year. Because liberal arts degrees provide preparation in a variety of useful fields rather than a single career track, this course is recommended to help liberal arts students focus on specific educational and occupational goals and to identify the career options or educational opportunities available to them. The course will introduce them to the resources needed for accessing information about graduate schools, internships, careers, and career development. Students will learn basic employment strategies, including the steps necessary for obtaining employment related to their own specialty.

Study Abroad/Internship Program. All students of Italian are encouraged to participate in a Study Abroad or Internship program in Italy. The programs provide excellent opportunities for developing language proficiency and better understanding of the history and culture of Italy.

Program Learning Outcomes:

1. Linguistic Ability: Successful students will place at least at the "Intermediate High" range in Italian speaking, listening, writing, and reading on the ACTFL Proficiency Scale.
2. Research: Students will analyze the literature, language, and culture of Italy drawing upon their ability to locate and consult relevant primary, critical, and theoretical sources.
3. Critical Thinking: Based on their chosen interdisciplinary curriculum, students will demonstrate the ability to articulate and defend in speech and writing clear and orderly thought on Italian literary and cultural topics.

THE DISCIPLINE:

The study of Italian language and literature sharpens analytical and communicative skills. Students develop proficiency in listening, reading, writing, and speaking, and they learn to use literature as a means to discover and broaden their understanding of culturally specific as well as universal issues and values.

CAREERS:

Italian is a valuable research and communication tool for students in music, art, history, European studies, international relations, library science, and comparative literature. Many have chosen a major or minor in Italian in addition to a second major or minor in an area such as accounting or business management, or as preparation for professional programs in public administration, business administration, organizational behavior, dentistry, law, or medicine.

Many students have opted for a career in government service, working with an embassy, the State Department, the CIA, and other government agencies.

Other students have gone into travel and tourism, working with tour agencies, airlines, major hotel chains, or resort communities.

The computer industry also provides employment opportunity. Many computer companies have expanded into foreign markets and hire people who can translate computer equipment and software instruction and sales publications in a foreign language.

Note: Check with department for current availability of all courses.

Note: Students are encouraged to complete an average of 15 credit hours each semester or 30 credit hours each year, which could include spring and/or summer terms. Taking fewer credits substantially increases the cost and the number of semesters to graduate.
