

BA in CLASSICAL STUDIES: Classics Emphasis (554247) MAP Sheet
 Department of Comparative Arts and Letters
 For students entering the degree program during the 2016–2017 curricular year.

UNIVERSITY CORE AND GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS				PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS (51–67 total hours)
UNIVERSITY CORE REQUIREMENTS				• The Department of Comparative Arts and Letters strongly recommends that StDev 317, a 1-credit-hour course, be taken at the end of the sophomore year or the beginning of the junior year. Because liberal arts degrees provide preparation in a variety of useful fields rather than a single career track, this course is recommended to help liberal arts students focus on specific educational and occupational goals and to identify the career options or educational opportunities available to them. The course will introduce them to the resources needed for accessing information about graduate schools, internships, careers, and career development. Students will learn basic employment strategies, including the steps necessary for obtaining employment related to their own specialty. Emphasizes Greek and Latin literature and language, with some work in Classical Civilization. Complete the following: HColl 110 Introduction to College of Humanities 2.0V Complete one course from the following: Cl Cv 110* Introduction to Greek & Roman Literature 3.0 Cl Cv 201* The Classical Tradition 1 3.0 Cl Cv 241* Greek & Roman Mythology 3.0 Complete the following: Greek 101 First-Year Greek (First Semester) 4.0 Greek 102 First-Year Greek (Second Semester) 4.0 Greek 201 Intermediate Greek (Prereq.: Greek 102) 4.0 Greek 301* Classical Greek Poetry: Homer's Iliad (Prerequisite: Greek 201) 3.0 Greek 302* Classical Greek Prose (Prerequisite: Greek 201) 3.0 Note: Greek 101, 102 may be waived with equivalent language experience. Complete one of the following options: Either Latin 101 First-Year Latin (First Semester) 4.0 Latin 102 First-Year Latin (Second Semester) 4.0 Or Latin 111 Beginning Latin Accelerated 5.0 Note: Latin 101, 102 or 111 may be waived with equivalent language experience. Complete the following: Latin 201 Intermediate Latin (Prereq.: Latin 102, 111, or three years of high school Latin) 4.0 Latin 301* Classical Latin Poetry (Prereq.: Latin 201) 3.0 Latin 302* Classical Latin Prose (Prereq.: Latin 201) 3.0 Note: In both languages the 302 course is the prerequisite for all 400-level prose courses in the same language and the 301 course is the prerequisite for all 400-level poetry courses in the same languages. THE DISCIPLINE:

Classical Studies examine ancient Greek and Roman cultures—their languages, literature, history, religion, art, and philosophy.

The major offers essential knowledge of philology, ancient history, archaeology, biblical studies, and the literary tradition of Western Europe, as well as traditional grounding in the Classics. Students acquire important foreign-language study skills that include careful reading, thoughtful writing, and persuasive speaking. Latin is the mother language not only of Italian, French, and Spanish, but in a real sense of English as well. Its study will especially enhance one's understanding of English vocabulary, grammar, and rhetorical structure.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES:

Majors in Classical Studies find employment in a variety of fields, including business, education, library science, tourism, and civil and foreign service. They are also excellent candidates for graduate work in other humanities-related disciplines and professional schools (law, business, and medicine).

CAREER STRATEGIES:

Education—teaching, research, administration in colleges or universities, junior colleges, Church education, secondary schools. Obtain PhD for college/university teaching or research positions; obtain MA for junior college and CES positions; obtain BA for secondary schools (many Latin/Mythology/Ancient History teaching positions go unfilled each year).

Education support—museums, libraries. Obtain BA in Classical Studies and MA in Museum Administration; obtain BA in Classical Studies and MLS or MA in Book Preservation/Rare Books.

Professional—law, medicine. Classical Studies majors score second highest in the nation on the LSAT. Law school acceptance is very high. Minor in pre-med or take necessary science courses. High acceptance rates for Classical Studies majors.

Writing—writing, editing, technical writing, journalism, advertising with publishers, insurance companies, travel agencies, magazine and newspapers, professional/trade organizations, advertising agencies. Keen sense of structure of language and an extremely expanded vocabulary result from majoring in Classical Studies.

Business—management, marketing, human resource, advertising, finance, insurance, lobbying with business firms, insurance companies, bookstores, marketing research, museums, travel agencies, real estate. Complete a business minor. MBA programs prefer liberal arts majors with some business courses.

Government—staff positions, congressional staffs, foreign service in federal, state, and local governments, federal agencies, foreign service, national and state endowments for the humanities. Learn federal, state, and local job application process. Several BYU Classics alumni are members of the US Foreign Service Diplomatic Corps.

For more information on careers in your major, please refer to hac.byu.edu/h-careers.html.

Note: Contact the college advisement center or see hac.byu.edu/graduation-plan.html for help in outlining an efficient schedule.

Note: Students are encouraged to complete an average of 15 credit hours each semester or 30 credit hours each year, which could include spring and/or summer terms. Taking fewer credits substantially increases the cost and the number of semesters to graduate.
