Note: Students may use one social work course from Cluster A for this cluster.

Complete the Psychology Area of Focus selection form.

This form must be signed by an academic advisor in the FHSS Advisement Center (1041 JFSB). Turn in the form, with appropriate signatures, at the FHSS Advisement Center.

Complete 3 hours from the following capstone seminars:

Psych 410R	Senior Practicum: Teaching of Psych	8.0V
Psych 420R	Senior Practicum: Community Projects	8.0V
Psych 430R	Senior Practicum: Research in Psych	8.0V
Psych 496R	Academic Internship, Capstone	9.0V

Note 1: To enroll in a capstone seminar students must have completed Psych 101, 111, 210, 308, 309, and 310 (or be concurrently enrolled in 309 or 310); one core course from Cluster A, B, or C; and three other 300-level psychology courses (or be concurrently enrolled in the third course).

Note 2: Enrollment in Psych 496R will also meet the capstone seminar requirement.

Suggested Sequence of Courses:

FRESHMAN YEAR

1st Semester

THE DISCIPLINE:

The Department of Psychology offers a program designed to (1) increase the understanding of human behavior, (2) develop skills for applying such understanding, and (3) expand the frontiers of knowledge through student-faculty research and other scholarly activity.

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES:

Contact the Psychology Department for this information.

HONORARY SOCIETIES AND CLUBS:

BYU sponsors a chapter of Psi Chi the National Honors Society in psychology and Psychology Association.

INTERNSHIPS:

Academic internships are available and encouraged. Academic credit is arranged through Psych 399R and Psych 496R.

MINORS:

A minor is not required, but students may select a minor or a combination of courses in other departments depending on their educational and professional objectives. The same courses cannot count for both the psychology major and a minor in another department. For students who will go no farther than a bachelor's degree, it is recommended that they broaden their employment opportunities by taking courses in areas of their professional interests.

CAREERS:

Psychologists engage in a variety of academic roles including teaching, research, and administration. They also provide counseling, clinical, and consulting services to individuals and organizations. They are employed in colleges and in universities; public and private schools; clinics, hospitals, and private practice; business and industry; and government and private agencies. The study of psychology has particular value for family life and other cultural and civic responsibilities. It also complements other specializations concerned with human behavior, including the practice of law.

Most professional positions in psychology require advanced degrees, generally the doctorate, though the bachelor's degree may provide employment in such areas as high school teaching, mental health care, detention and probation services, auxiliary social work, and personnel and human resources. The psychology major is a popular preliminary to graduate study in the professions of business, law, and medicine.
