

BA in CHINESE (552020) MAP Sheet

Department of Asian and Near Eastern Languages

For students entering the degree program during the 2016–2017 curricular year.

UNIVERSITY CORE AND GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS				PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS (48-60 total hours)
UNIVERSITY CORE REQUIREMENTS				<ul style="list-style-type: none"> It is mandatory that students consult with their faculty advisor to determine supporting courses appropriate to professional goals. It is strongly recommended that StDev 317, a 1-credit-hour course, be taken at the end of the sophomore year or the beginning of the junior year. Because liberal arts degrees provide preparation in a variety of useful fields rather than a single career track, this course is recommended to help liberal arts students focus on specific educational and occupational goals and to identify the career options or educational opportunities available to them. The course will introduce them to the resources needed for accessing information about graduate schools, internships, careers, and career development. Students will learn basic employment strategies, including the steps necessary for obtaining employment related to their own specialty.

Note: It is recommended that majors complete a language residency program including, but not limited to, Chinese Study Abroad, Chinese internship, study at a Chinese university, one semester in the Foreign Language Student Residence, or participation in a Marriott School Learning on-campus internship as a Chinese language specialist. Other residency programs must be approved by the Chinese section head.

THE DISCIPLINE:

The study of Chinese accesses the literature, thought, culture, and society of the world's largest population with the longest cultural continuum; moreover, since the civilizations of Japan, Korea, and Vietnam are founded on traditional Chinese Confucianism, a major in Chinese opens up much of the wider world of modern Asia. You will communicate in spoken and written Mandarin, gain skills in analyzing and appreciating both traditional and modern literature, acquire effective research strategies, and learn to write clearly and persuasively. All the personal enrichment and interpersonal understanding that results from a liberal arts education in the humanities is offered through the study of Chinese.

Studying linguistics brings essential understanding of the language itself, and learning its literature reveals old and sophisticated traditions no less important than that of English or any other major language.

CAREERS:

Chinese majors have all of the advantages of the liberal arts graduate (who claims effective communication and interpersonal skills) with the added edge of knowing the language and culture behind a leading world economy. Therefore, graduates enter the work force in a wide variety of occupations, such as journalism, insurance, business, travel, investment, and government service. They not only are marketable as trained linguists, translators, and cultural advisors, but are vigorously recruited as personnel managers and business representatives by companies with overseas interests. Graduates are also highly competitive in applying to professional schools such as medical, dentistry, law, and business schools.

ADVICE/MENT:

HUMANITIES ADVICE/MENT CENTER
1175 JFSB, (801) 422-4789

- Declare or change major or minor
- Clear for graduation (recommended application is 2 semesters before graduation)
- GE, major, and transfer advisement
- Questions about university policies
- Clearance of CAC holds and adding over hours
- Graduation records
- Requirement sheets, correct ABC errors
- Evaluate students holds at 96 hours and 150+ hours

ASIAN & NEAR EASTERN LANGUAGES
DEPARTMENT
3064 JFSB, (801) 422-3396

- Faculty advisement
- Career counseling
- Adding major classes
- Class offering changes
- Specific course information
- Grade changes
- Letters of recommendation
